The King's Academy Drama Department takes theatre-goers back to 1905 Russia and the endearing story family, faith and tradition that audiences have loved for almost 50 years. Director, Katie Steipp, says, "This production is proving to be a building experience for our students as they are stretched emotionally in their acting, physically in their dancing, and mentally through the inherent lessons in values in this show." Known for their high standards of excellence, The King's Academy Drama Department will not disappoint with Fiddler on the Roof.

The King's Academy is a Christ-centered college preparatory junior and senior high school (Grades 6-12) for students who have teachable hearts and coachable spirits. The school offers a loving, family environment where students are encouraged to grow in their relationship with Jesus, their family, teachers, and others. The King's Academy is accredited by both the Association of Christian Schools International (ACSI) and The Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC). The King's Academy is currently accepting applications for the 2010-2011 school year. For more information about The King's Academy, please visit the website at www.tka.org.
